

S1022/8056

ABSTRACT

177656

The present invention relates to a voltage reference in an integrated circuit, formed of an NPN bipolar transistor, the base of which is not connected and the emitter of which corresponds to an anode and the collector of which corresponds to a cathode.